

I would like to comment on the K-LOVE radio network. They provide up-to-date information in a positive light. (Sadly lacking in other forums.) It provides entertainment and information on improving family life, marriage and child-rearing. It is also safe for children to listen to without having to monitor for "language" which is prevalent on other secular stations. I believe this service should continue and be promoted in all areas as a wonderful alternative to secular stations. Thank you
